Bungee jump from Japan's highest, Gifu Prefecture
Experience the thrill of jumping off Japan's highest bungee jump site! Situated in Yotsu Town in Gifu Prefecture, the free fall of 215m from the Shitabetsu Bridge across a deep valley is guaranteed to give you an adrenaline-packed 7 seconds of your life! Do try to take in the scenery surrounding the bridge as it is a testament to the beauty of Gifu's great outdoors, with steep mountains being cut through by the Taisokko River, creating an incredibly deep and stunning V-shaped valley. There's also a viewing platform for those who just want to cheer on the jumpers.

Enjoy a sunset excursion on a stand-up paddleboard (SUP) at Kojiro Bay which is adjacent to the primeval forests of the Mura peninsula in Kanagawa Prefecture. The SUP tour takes you around the calm bay which is not affected by the wind nor tide, making it easy for beginners to paddle around. At the far end of the bay is Kojiro's Forest, where you can also appreciate the muflats and even try SUP yoga! Experience the beautiful sunset bay with a unique perspective on the water, and if you're lucky, you can also see the silhouette of Mt. Fuji.

Witness one of the largest habitats for migratory birds, Saga Prefecture
The Higashiyuka Higata tidal flats in Saga Prefecture is a major stopover and wintering site for migratory waterbirds in Japan, with over 11,500 birds counted every year in spring, including endangered species such as the Saunders's Gull, Black-bellied Spoonbill, and Far Eastern Curlew. You can view the extensive tidal flats from the Higata Observation Deck. It is certainly a breathtaking experience to see thousands of shorebirds fly toward and flock at the wetland to forage for food in spring and autumn.
